Go 4 Life Walking Club*Physical and Social Wellness*

Go4Life is a fitness program, including walking, that encourages adults to incorporate exercise and physical activity into their daily lives. The National Institute on Aging (NIA) leads the efforts in conducting and supporting research on aging and the health and well-being of older adults. They created Go4Life to try and make a difference by providing information and motivational tools to assist with physical activity and by working with organizations to provide an environment that supports their efforts. A daily walking club was one of the key exercise programs. Go4Life also emphasizes the importance of resistance exercise for the overall goal of achieving overall brain health.

Fitness Classes*Physical WellnessPhysical Activity is Essential to Healthy Aging

As an older adult, regular physical activity is one of the most important things you can do for your health. It can prevent or delay many of the health problems that seem to come with age. It also helps your muscles grow stronger so you can keep doing your day-to-day activities without becoming dependent on others. Keep in mind, some physical activity is better than none at all. Your health benefits will also increase with the more physical activity that you do. Adults aged 65 and older need:

At least 150 minutes a week (for example, 30 minutes a day, 5 days a week) of moderate intensity activity such as brisk walking.

If chronic conditions affect your ability to meet these recommendations, be as physically active as your abilities and conditions allow.
